

A Joint Jung/Lacan Conference
First Announcement and Call for Papers

St John's College Cambridge, UK
Friday 12th – Sunday 14th September 2014

The Notion of the Sublime
in Creativity and Destruction

Lionel Bailly, Bernard Burgoyne, Ann Casement, Phil Goss

One hundred years since the outbreak of The Great War, which radically changed many of the western world's rational values and belief systems, this conference brings together scholars and psychoanalysts from different disciplines to explore, through a depth psychological lens, the forces of creativity and destruction enshrined in the notion of the sublime.

Conference to include: Keynote Lectures
Papers by Delegates
Breakout Sessions
Posters

Registration fee: £200

Accommodation and Meals: £355

(includes 2 nights accommodation and all meals throughout the conference)

Further details and registration forms from:

Barbara Ashworth, Jung/Lacan Secretariat, Cambridge Conferences, The Lawn, 33
Church Street, Great Shelford, Cambridge CB22 5EL, UK
bm.ashworth@tiscali.co.uk

Closing date for applications 30th June 2014

(places are limited and early application is advisable)

DEADLINE FOR PAPERS: 30th September 2013