

Dear Members of the IAAP and IAJS,

ARAS, the Archive for Research into Archetypal Symbolism, is offering you a free, three month trial subscription to our Archive. In addition, we have prepared a special edition of ARAS Connections, our quarterly newsletter, to introduce you to ARAS and to demonstrate ways in which ARAS can be used by scholars, analysts, analytic candidates and others.

To view the special edition of ARAS Connections, go to: <https://aras.org/newsletters/aras-connections-image-and-archetype-2016-special-issue>

To sign up for the free, three month trial subscription to ARAS, go to: <https://aras.org/join>

To sign up for an ongoing free subscription to the quarterly ARAS Connections, email us at newsletter@aras.org

And please note, that you can always visit ARAS.org to view our extensive library and other free features, including our Concordance of Jung's Collected Works, that do not require a membership to access the archive.

With best wishes,
Ami Ronnberg, Curator of ARAS
Tom Singer, President of ARAS

ARAS Number 8JF.030

Janiform cap mask with horns, designed to be worn ritually on top of a dancer's head,

ARAS Number 5Fn.102

Crowned Apollo rides in a chariot, wearing armor and a golden cape--a golden sun chariot drawn by four horses.