Jungian Perspectives on Rebirth and Renewal

Phoenix rising

Edited by Elizabeth Brodersen, PhD., C. G. Jung Institute, Switzerland, and Michael Glock, PhD.

This collection of papers is inspired by the themes evoked by the image of the phoenix and by Jung’s travels to the USA, India and Africa in the 1920s and 1930s. The international selection of contributors explore ideas that range from the cultural complex to the trickster archetype, life and death, and the experiences of indigenous communities in the modern world. They use images, literature, film, clinical and personal accounts in their examinations of the psyche and its relation to contemporary society. The book features a strong editorial framework, locating each chapter within current academic discourse, and as a whole presents a unique exploration of this key area of Jung’s work.
