

University of Basel

IAAP International Association
for Analytical Psychology

Theoretical Foundations of Analytical Psychology: Recent Developments and Controversies

October 18-20 2018

Joint Conference IAAP / University of Basel

Carl Gustav Jung began his academical career at the University of Basel and received international reputation for his empirical studies with the “association experiment”. Today, more than a century after Jung’s early studies, the conference will focus on major theoretical concepts of analytical psychology.

Program

Thursday 18th Oct

18.00 – 20.00 KEYNOTE LECTURE:

Mark Solms, PhD, Capetown, South Africa

THE UNCONSCIOUS IN PSYCHOANALYSIS AND NEUROSCIENCE

Friday 19th Oct.

I. The relationship of consciousness and unconscious
Speakers: Philip Kime, Isabelle Meier

II. The controversy around the concept of archetypes
Speakers: George Hogenson, John Merchant

Saturday, 20th Oct

III. Analytical Psychology, Psychoanalysis and contemporary Psychotherapy Research
Speakers: Michael Buchholz, Christian Roesler

Additionally to the various speeches, different social events will take place.

More information and registration:
iaap-conference.ch