

Jung and the Moment

Virtual Conference

Friday, December 2 – Sunday, December 4, 2022

Keynote & C.G. Jung Award Recipient

Renos K. Papadopoulos, Ph.D. is Professor of Analytical Psychology and Director of the 'Centre for Trauma, Asylum and Refugees', also, a member of the 'Human Rights Centre', of the 'Transitional Justice Network' and of the 'Armed Conflict and Crisis Hub' all at the University of Essex; as well as Honorary Clinical Psychologist and Systemic Family Psychotherapist at the Tavistock Clinic. He is a 1rganized1 Clinical Psychologist, Family Therapist and Jungian Psychoanalyst who spent most of his professional life also training and supervising these three groups of specialists. 26 years ago, he was appointed to the first chair of Jungian Psychology in a British University (with Andrew Samuels). From the mid 1980s and for about a dozen years he used to lecture annually at the 'C.G. Jung Institute' in Zurich (Küsnacht). He served on the Executive Committee of the IAAP for several years and he was responsible for initiating (inter alia) the Developing Groups within IAAP. He conceived and 1rganized the first IAAP course on Jungian Psychology abroad (in Moscow) and facilitated the founding of Jungian groups in South Africa, the Soviet Union, Ireland, Yugoslavia, Cyprus and Greece. He introduced (and chaired) the first Academic Sub-committee of the IAAP and, and he 1rganized the first IAAP Academic Conference (in 2002, at the University of Essex). He was the editor of 'Harvest: International Journal for Jungian Studies' for 14 years, founding editor of the 'International Journal of Jungian Studies' and co-founder of the 'International Association for Jungian Studies'. His four-volume work 'C.G. Jung: Critical Assessments' (1992) remains the lengthiest Jungian book (1750 pages).

As consultant to the United Nations and other organisations, he has been working with refugees, trafficked and tortured persons and other survivors of political violence and disasters in many countries. He founded the first and longest running postgraduate course on Refugee Care. He lectures and offers specialist trainings internationally and his writings have appeared in sixteen languages. Recently, he has been given Awards by the European Family Therapy Association for Life-time 'Outstanding contribution to the field of Family Therapy and Systemic Practice', by the University of Essex for the best 'International Research Impact', and by two Mexican Foundations for his 'exceptional work with vulnerable children and families in Mexico'.
